Faculty members of the institute brief them about different allied health professions and their scope. Lastly students visited the institute and hospital.

Two day workshop on “Assessment of Nutritional Status of Dialysis Patients”

Department of Nutrition of Rashid Latif Institute of Allied Health Sciences arranged a two day workshop on “Assessment of Nutritional Status of Dialysis Patients”. This program was divided into three parts; the first part of this program was to provide the lecture about the dialysis patients to students of Third professional year and Final year.

Second part of this program was the practical nutritional assessment of dialysis patients; assessment of dialysis patients was supported by Sheikh Zayad Hospital's Dialysis Unit. The third part of this program was the detailed discussion and meal planning of the assessed patients with the concerned supervisor. As dialysis patients are at a high risk of getting malnourished; their proper diet therapy according to their age, gender, body mass index frequency of dialysis and biochemical profile is very crucial. This program helped students to understand and to develop the dietary plans for the dialysis plans in accordance to their individualized requirements.

One day International Workshop on "Strategies for Functional Language Development of Children with Cochlear Implantation"
